Mr. Bleecker-THE MAYORALTY .- A report having Mr. Bleccker THE MAYORALTY.—A report having been industriously circulated that I have withdrawn my name as a nominee of the Republican party for the Mayoralty, I deem I due, both to the members of that party and to my own self-cespect, to state that there is not, and never was, any foundation whatever for such an assertion. My nomination, at first by a very large majority of the Republican Convention, and its immediate onalimous ratification, I can cutsider in no other light than as a piedge to me of the en're support by those of my follow-citizens who were represented by that body, and I have yet to learn that I am released from my part of the engagement by which I became the representative of a great, and, I trust, successful party. Only those who wish to east a slir upon me at a man and a Republican, will represent me as describing my yest at this stage of the conflict.

At a large and enthusinstic Meeting of the INDEPENDENT FREMONT AND DAYTON CLUB OF THE NINEFFENTH WARD, held at Gall ker's on the 28th inst.
JOHN HAYS in the chair, the meeting was ably addressed by Mr. CAHILL, setting forth the principles of the Republican Party and the duties of the Laboring Glasses in the approaching election. Mr. HAMILTON made a few remarks canvasing the ments of the candidates of the party. Mr. CAHILL then offered the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted, without a dissenting voice:

Wherear, The Federal Constitution was formed and adopted expressly to secure the blessings of Liberty to the People of the United States and their poeterity, and as no power was given therein to extend the curse of Slavery; wherefore we maintain that Congress has the right and is in duty bound to abolish Slavery wherever it exists in the Territories of the Union, and plainly prohibit its establishment in any partien of those Territories, at any time hereafter; therefore.

Resolved, That recognizing the restriction of Slavery within its present limits as one of the eardinal principles of our political faith, we pleade ourselves to our fellow-citizens and the country to exercise to the utmost all the power we may posses to prevent the extension of Slavery over a single foot of free soil.

Resolved, That, devoted to the principles and form of our confederation, ever mindful of the blessings it has secured to our-

Everybody that has seen it is in raptures with it. Road the following extract of a note received this day, from a noted house' keeper of this city:

"T. B. PETERSON—Dear Sir: Widdifield's Cook Book, recently published by you, and which I purchased at your store, is far superienced any other I have ever seen. As a guide to the young and inexperienced in Domestic Cookery, it has no equal whatever. It must take the place of all others, and I trust it may meet with the success that so useful a Book deserves."
